P17, you don't ever give up... please try to see the positive side of maintaining your lifestyle. If you base your feelings on what might happen or what could be your not giving yourself the best chance. You need to focus on the facts, that's why you and I know that you are doing the right thing by dealing with our issue and trying to maintain your position with [REDACTED]. Person 17's husband

There's nothing left to maintain! You don't realise the ramifications of your broken promises. I thought we were going to be together & that made me switch off to my life with [REDACTED]. He's now saying it had the same effect on him! It wasn't what he wanted but he accepted that I was moving on with you & wished us well. He's spent the past few months preparing himself for a life without me in it. It's pretty fucking hard now for either of us to wind those feelings back! And not being married to [REDACTED] pretty much affects every aspect of my current "great" life in a negative way. Person 17's husband

Well then convince him it's only because of what he did that caused you to find me and I'm not actually what you want. You both made mistakes and need to reconcile that. Tell him I'm not the person you want... he is!

[REDACTED] 02.03.2018 08:01:38

I can say that .... but it's not true & we all know it!

But at least it stabilises things will you decide what you do want to do and when.

Ben I don't need you to tell me you love me in order to know those things about myself. Again - it's pretty fucking hard to wind back on my feelings for you & I would've thought it should be the same for you! I don't suddenly stop loving you just because we aren't going to be together. I need to feel like I did when you first broke your decision to me in London - that you have really strong feelings for me (love me) & wish you could be with me if life was different but you just can't etc etc. Otherwise what I am to you other than a good time? Which makes me feel like shit.

But that is how I feel p17 and I've told you that. I wish we had of met under different circumstances.... unfortunately we didn't and that's why I don't want to keep revisiting this because then we run the risk of destroying that memory. I don't want us to become resentful of each other.

No I don't want anything from you. Stop telling me you care & that you'll be there for me - you don't & you aren't! I'm angry because you don't give a fuck about anything unless it directly affects you!

I would like to be there. When do you get in.

I haven't booked flights yet. There's a legitimate ██████████ thing down there on Sun 11/03 that I wasn't planning to go to but can probably use as an excuse. I just need to invent some reason why I then need to stay on for Mon & Mon night.

Wake up to yourself... I'm trying to mitigate the fallout for you with ██████████. We can talk about how that looks but you really need to get your shit together or you will be doing it alone. Don't fucking abuse me again because it won't end well!

I'll be out for awhile from 9:45am this morning if you'd like to talk? What went down yesterday hit me very hard & I'm really not in a great place.

I can tell & I'm really sorry about that. We will get through this together. We just need to stop turning on each other.

Please talk to me Ben. We will work this out. I realise now that I've been selfish too & I haven't been considering your feelings & how this impacts on you - I know it does - I know you care & are trying to help. I'm worried about you.
